Anne

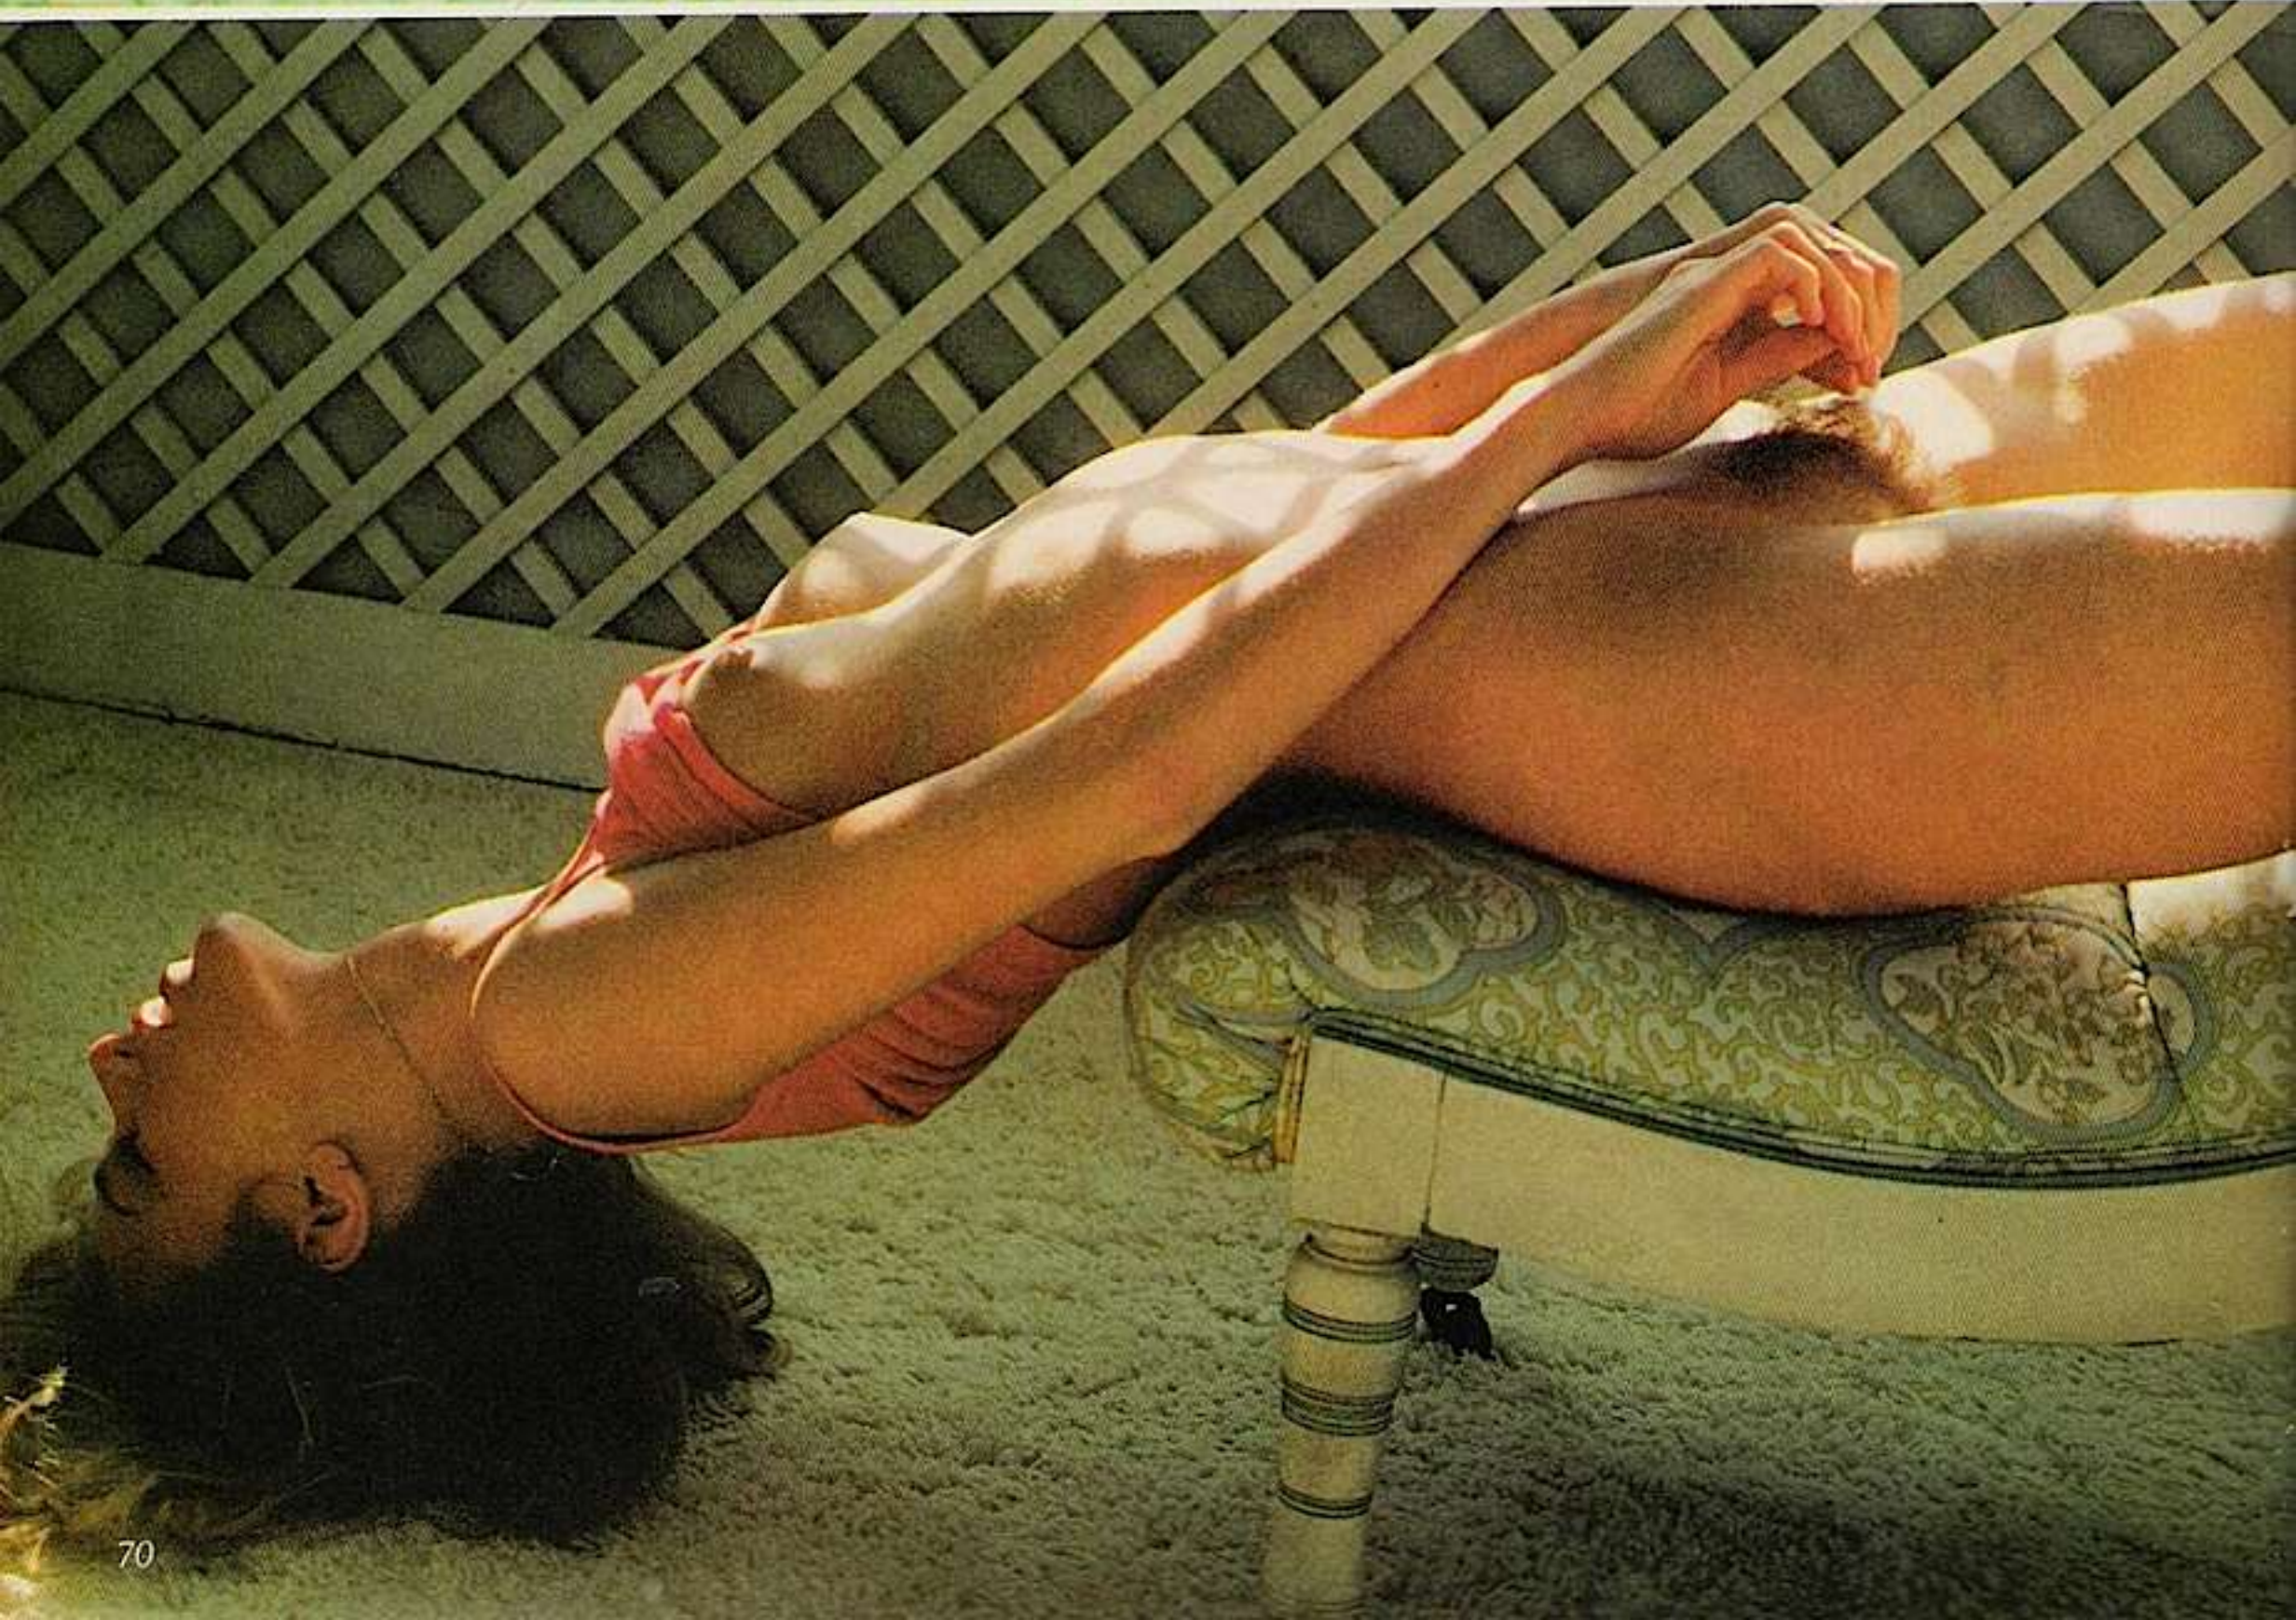

Anne was fascinated by lensman Rupert Daines' accent – a mid-Atlantic twang he's picked up from jetting between Britain and the United States.

'Oh yes, I'm a sucker for a man with a strong accent. My favourite is an Aussie drawl. I've had this relationship with a sheep farmer, on and off for the past three years. Gary comes to Britain once a year, and I visit him in the outback.

'He likes nothing better than for me to visit him at the shearing station, after a days graft, and to take me on the spot, just hoisting up my skirt and sticking his sweaty prick up my fanny.' ♣
